SMALL CHANGE

Up to date, the advice of Major Douglas has cost the province $8,449, it is shown by figures brought down in the legislature. He is still entitled to a $2,500 fee for his services in his engagement, plus expenses if he makes another trip there. All told, it is calculated, his services may cost $11,000 by the time his contract expires.

These look like large figures in a time of depression. But relatively enters into the calculation, and they have to be measured against what the Major is expected to do for the province. If he makes good on his promise of $25 a month to every adult bona fide resident, with no back-tacking, no one will grudge the $11,000 outlay. The province would be dirt cheap at that price per year for all time.

All the Major has to do to justify his engagement is come along and make up all richer by $25 a month, or more, according to program. The grateful taxpayers will in that happy event not only pay the $11,000 cheerfully, but will probably petition the legislature to present him with an honorarium of ten times the amount. Which would be only one per cent of the first month's dividends, a trifling reward for so vast a service.

BLESSED ARE THE POOR?

Mrs. Black, M.P. for the Yukon, wants parliament to ease up on the tax laws now imposed on "soundboughs" in the far north. To get a subsistence pension of $20 a month, the Yukoner must prove that he is destitute, and she, she rightly says, subjects him to unnecessary and unjust "humiliation."

The Yukoners, however, are not singled out for special treatment in that respect. The same rule holds all over Canada. No one can get an old age pension anywhere unless he is 70 years of age, and proves himself to be destitute whatever the humiliation.

It is a social crime of the first magnitude in Canada to grow old for the sake of money. Only the well-off can afford to get old if they want to preserve their dignity.

Unless he has grabbed when the grabbing was good, and has saved up for the day when that impoverished the best of grabbers, the aged Canadian is in desperate plight. He must plead destitute poverty before he can get a pension, which is a lifetime of work will give him back enough to keep soul and body together. It is the aged applicant for a pension who has to bear the humiliation of the social work properly belongs to.

THOSE BACHELORS

The member for St. Paul wants the legislature to cap a tax, and a good heavy one, on Alberta bachelors, just because they are bachelors, setting the dead line at 25 years of age.

That has been proposed before, but it stands to the credit of the collective sense of former legislatures that it never got any farther than the proposal stage. There are two good reasons why it should get no farther at this time. In the first place, it isn't any of the business of Members. Secondly, if it is a man for the first time, he will be taken woman who will marry him.

In the second place the tax could not be collected in any amount large enough to be important, because three out of four bachelors are bachelors because they can't afford to get married. With half of them on relief and the other half only able to earn enough to support themselves, the tax would be only another barrier in the way of eventual matrimony. If the legislature is to take any action on the bachelors, all it has to do is to get on with the distribution of the dividends. Once those start to go out, there will be no good reason for the members who will delight in the hearts of the state-making legislator and who are not enough "stagnant" to be worth bothering about.

SOMETHING MAY COME OF IT

Alderman Clevis, being a new member of council and still having to learn the ropes, has taken a view of the city, thinking it ought to be possible to have relief men work out their allowances on a half-day and night basis, repairing city-owned houses.

He will be disillusioned when he has been here in council, as others have been before him. To do that, he will be taken woman who will have to buy lumber and nails and tools and lath and chingles and plaster and brick, and hire architects and draughtsmen and carpenters and gang bosses; and in the end the repairs would cost as much as though done in the ordinary way under contract.

That has been a standing objection whenever it has been suggested that relief men be employed on anything more technical and worth while than shovelling snow and scooping mud off the crossings. Occasionally the objection has been over-ridden and some road-work done, but not so much as to justify the hope that the houses will get repaired in that particular way.

If precedent holds they will likely enough get repaired at all, while the city continues to hand out allowances to men quite able to repair them and very willing to do so. But if it should be that council wants to spring a glad surprise on the taxpayers, here is the chance.

The Government of Spain proposes to release political prisoners, including 14 to be hoped, that never-dying prisoners for whose liberation three generations of gullible Canadians have been contributing money every so often.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

One of the pleasing things about visiting this corner is the number of variety of people who read it. Reading in Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, one expects, but I find letters from Toronto, Montreal, Montana, New York, the Channel Islands and Sydney, Australia.

A day or two ago a young Chinese in Alberta asked me to send him a brief outline of the Social Credit movement. He intends to write an article on Social Credit in Chinese for the edification of his countrymen.

That's a challenge to one's spirit of fairness. After I had written to him it occurred to me that others might be interested in the answer. If any readers think I failed in my duty I'll send their corrections on to him. This was what I wrote.

The reform known as Social Credit was originated many years ago by Major C. H. Douglas, a Scottish engineer. While working on a large airplane factory for the British government, he noticed that the amount of money paid out in wages, salaries and bonuses was less than the amount of money paid in to the government by the factory.

From the study of this process of diminishing returns, Major Douglas arrived at a belief that the principal cause of the world depression is that in each manufacturing process there occurs a shrinkage of money. He stated this proposition in his A P. B. theory. "A" costs represent money received as wages, salaries and bonuses, "B" costs represent money which does not come back as purchasing power after long delay, if at all, such as payments for raw materials, depreciation, interest, etc.

How was he to overcome the problem of diminishing purchasing power? He devised an elaborate system by which the principles can be simply stated as follows:

(1) A national bookkeeping system whereby the national wealth can be accurately valued from time to time.
(2) Manufacturers to open their factories and place workers at work on needed goods, in the assurance that the State will guarantee the necessary purchasing power to the consuming public.

(3) As goods accumulate, the value of these are taken into the accounting. With each periodic increase in the national wealth, an exactly equal amount of new money is created to balance the increase, and is distributed as a National Dividend among all those with less than a minimum income. In order to create the new money it is necessary that the Social Credit scheme be enforced by a State with power to create money.

In Canada the powers of government are divided between the federal and the provincial governments. The provincial parliament is given exclusive authority over money and banking. Otherwise each province would have a separate money system subject to daily changes of value in the other provinces.

Owing to lack of power to issue money, Douglas Social Credit could not be applied in the individual province. Mr. Aberhart has devised a system of Social Credit that differs from the Douglas system, and which he says can be applied in the individual province.

Instead of having an accountancy system to measure the increase of wealth periodically, and then issue new money to the extent increase in the provincial wealth, he plans to give the province $25 a month in credit on a provincial banking institution to be known as a Credit House.

He plans to raise the money by the issue of credit by imposing levies on all goods. This would be in the nature of a sales tax, with some levies on the more luxuries.

All political parties in Alberta are in favor of Social Credit dividends if they can be issued for the increasing consumer prices, taxes and the public debt. The differences come to pass over the question whether the Aberhart method will work successfully or not.

Mr. Aberhart says he will work continuously without increase of taxes or public debt on its first month's capital of $100,000,000. He says there will be such an increase of sales and purchases each month that the $100,000,000 will come back into the treasury in levies before the following month. He says that merchants will experience such an increase of business that they will be able to absorb the levy or sales tax, with the result that prices will be no higher, and probably less.

Those sceptical of the Aberhart Plan say it is impossible for Alberta to raise $100,000,000 a month for dividends without greatly increasing the cost of goods. They say it will cost millions to build buildings, and to pay for the administration, and that with $100,000,000 of purchasing power coming into the province in a normal year from the sale of our wheat, corn and lumber, etc., it would be impossible to levy $25,000,000 a year for dividends without a tax that would be ruinous both to our export trade and to the domestic consumer.

If prices go up without individual purchasing power increasing in similar ratio, then purchasing power is decreased. If a man has $10 a ton and he buys $20, his purchasing power is 2 tons. If a $10 sales tax was imposed on a ton, then your $20 would purchase only one ton.

Douglas makes provision to protect consumers from being robbed of the benefit of the dividend by the method by what he calls a Compensated Price or Just Price mechanism. Prices are arbitrarily fixed. Where manufacturers are not satisfied with the price they are given by a direct payment to the manufacturer. The Just Price of the Aberhart system works in a similar direction. It is a complicated ideal condition where everybody who handles a product—the workman, the manufacturer, the wholesaler, the jobber, the retailer and the transporter—each gets a share of the dividend with the amount of the profit received. Developing the Bust

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

Many women who desire to improve the appearance of the body about the waistline are asking how to bring about a better bust development. The chief problem may be to build up and fill out the bust which is too small, or the main problem may concern itself with firming and toning the breast which appears to droop or sag.

Undoubtedly, at the present time, there is a widespread feeling that final solution must be possessed the bust which has a natural, well-rounded appearance. Probably the principal reason why such a development is of interest is because present day fashions place so much emphasis on the figure.

Dr. P. McCoy figure, or the figure possessing normal curves. Dresses are styled to suit this type of figure, and it is to appear well in them it is necessary that every woman have a good bustline. The modern trend toward more generous curves is markedly different from the style of several years ago, when the flat-chested, extremely slender figure was in vogue.

In attempting to develop the bust which is too small, and likewise in attempting to bring the bust to the normal, the best results will be obtained by special exercises. Those exercises which do the most good are those which strengthen the muscles of the chest, which muscles are the foundation upon which the breasts lie.

In attempting to develop a better bust development, most of your exercising will be directed to moving the pectoral muscle, which is the muscle which travels from the breast to the shoulder. If you will raise your arms, and then lower them, you will readily feel movement in the muscle to which I am referring. The pectoral muscle may be caused to have a better tone by persistent exercise and by causing this muscle to become firmer and stronger, the appearance of the bust will improve.

Most of the exercises taken for the purpose desired will consist of arm and shoulder movements. The exercises which are most often surprising to the patient who finds that developing the pectoral muscle through exercise makes the breast more shapely and at the same time gives it a firmer outline. It is not advisable to try to change the shape of the breast through attempting to change the glandular tissue of the breast, but rather to rely upon exercise to tone up flabby breasts. You will find that the breast will become firmer and stronger persistently. Not only will the breasts appear better developed as soon as their muscular support is strengthened, but also the outline will be changed as they become raised.

In addition to using the special exercise, it is a good plan to try to bring about a better development through diet and breathing. Breathing exercises will expand the chest and will help to even a flat-chested appearance. It is also a good plan to try to improve your posture, to keep your chest to the front, which in turn assists the bust in assuming the normal position. You will find that your posture and your chest to the front.

The combination of special exercises, deep breathing and correct posture will be a great deal in making the bustline appear more natural.

A new article has been prepared, describing the special exercises to take for developing the bust and each exercise has been illustrated. If you will send me a request, I will be glad to send the article to you. If you write to me and enclose one large, self-addressed envelope and ten cents.

Beauty Is Love Interest

OLIVIA DE HAVILLAND PRACTICES UP ON FENCING FOR ROLE WITH ERROL FLYNN IN THRILLER "CAPT. BLOOD"

Rafael Sabatini's immortal tale of piracy on the high seas, "Captain Blood" is now acknowledged as the classic story of adventure written in the last century. Its thrills, action and absorbing romance are known to all readers who cannot respond to the call of adventure.

And the lure of excitement. Now "Captain Blood" with all its color and its vividness and its thrills has been made into a talking picture and this film masterpiece is thoroughly delightful audience at the Capitol theatre, where it is now playing. And what a picture it is. In the immensity of its stark drama, its tremendous sets, its bizarre and picturesque background, its thrilling action and its marvelous characterizations, "Captain Blood" stands out as one of the great film masterpieces.

Heading a cast as unusual as the noblest film masterpiece, the picture players whose work will un-deoubtedly set them among the leading stars of the cinema. This is Errol Flynn, the young English actor-adventurer, who is Captain Blood in the flesh and Olivia de Havilland, the young school girl discovered by Max Reinhardt and who won a great triumph as Hermione in his production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Mrs. de Havilland justifies Max Reinhardt's faith in her. She has beauty, grace and charm and is thoroughly adapted to the role of a noblewoman who first buys the slave and then loves him.

There is Lionel Atwell, famous stage star, in the role of a wealthy West Indian plantation owner. There is Basil Rathbone portraying a cruel and treacherous French pirate slain in a duel by Captain Blood. There is the always lovely Guy Kibbee, also portraying a pirate. And what a picture it is. The remarkably fine performances are also given by Alexander, Robert Barrer, Frank McEwen, David Torrence and Kent Kenny in the role of friends of Blood. The story opens with the rebellion of the Duke of Monmouth against King James, touches on the wholesale hangings and enslavement of rebels at the order of the cruel English Chief Justices, Lord Jeffreys, then sweeps to the slave plantations of the West Indies, to pirate ships cruising the sea and scuttling richly laden vessels, to fierce sea battles and the seeking of Port Royal.

"Captain Blood" is the kind of story that can only be pictured in broad heroic strokes, and that is just what has been done.

Woman burning with the zeal of living, a flaming, brilliant zeal, that flashes upon the pinnacle of success and then drops to naught to the gutter. It is the story of a beautiful and fascinating actress who is overpowered by her own desire and the many who love her.

Bette Davis has captured all the moments of joy and the dark bitterness of this tormented woman with real artistry. She does not portray a character; she lives it and that is the ultimate in art.

A new edition of the Strand's "Movie Box Review" with Charlie Wright, Phyllis Boulton, Jean Walker, the Fashionettes and Cecil Campbell's orchestra will be presented today, their show running to Monday and Tuesday.

Letia Hyams, blonde leading lady of "Molter Lodge," is noted among her Hollywood friends as an interior decorator of impeccable taste, and is always being consulted on some home problem.

RIALTO'S TWO

PICTURES ARE STAR STUDDED

Large Cast Feature Of "Hitch-Hike Lady" and "Romance"

Hitch-hike, popular form of American activity, provides the basis for an excellent comedy, "Hitch-Hike Lady," starring Alison Skipworth, which opens Monday at the Rialto theatre. It unfolds the story of an English housekeeper who here and there goes to her son in California. In her transcontinental literary she picks up four companions, and it is inevitably instrumental in developing a romance between the two leads and bringing about the reformation of two hardened criminals.

These things are accomplished when the other members of the party discover the old lady's son, whom she hopes to join, in actually being inmate of San Quentin prison, and their efforts to keep her from hearing the truth are distinctly hilarious.

Miss Skipworth is excellent in the role of the elderly woman, while congratulations go to Max Clarke, Jimmy Elliston, Arthur Treacher and Warren Hymer for their excellent portrayals.

"The Student's Romance," which is due for showing at the Rialto next week, was directed by Otto Kuntze, the famous continental comedian who won fame for his lovely photographs of "Blossom Time" and "Abdul The Damned." This should prove one of the best of B.I.P.'s romantic musical production, and is obviously designed to charm everyone.

It is a love story of life in the famous University centre in the middle of the last century, where young men fought duels at the drop of a provocation, and princesses had to marry at their father's command.

The film takes a slice right out of the lives of these students and shows the screen the joyous and carefree days of youth and chivalry.

As usual "Breath of Spring" dinner would be given away free to the ladies.

EMPRESS HAS BOUNTY FILM ENTIRE WEEK

"Mutiny on the Bounty," the great sea picture that opens Monday at the Empress, is one of the most exciting pictures ever screened.

The picture is the true story of the voyage of H.M.S. "Bounty" 150 years ago, on a scientific expedition to the south seas. It tells of the tyrannical rule of a brutal captain who drove his crew to mutiny, of the life and loves of the sailors in a tropical paradise and the dogged pursuit of Captain Bligh, who after his capture is sent to the wrath of the sea by casting him adrift in an open boat.

"Mutiny on the Bounty" lives up to all the advance praise it has won. The picture's merits abound. Its story is a romantic, its scenic beauty, its music, its cast, headed by Charles Laughton, Clark Gable and Frankfort, is incomparable.

Although two years in preparation, and one year in the filming, "Mutiny on the Bounty" lives up to every expectation that has been created by it.

Listen

These dense black clouds which two months ago rolled over Tin Pan Alley, have shadowed Hollywood's musical-movie sets, hovered over the networks and finally drifted into Edison's dance opus and broadcasting studios, are war clouds. For civil war of the bitterest sort is raging in the popular music world, and the issue is one that has had to define itself.

While many big names in the list of some writers, band leaders and radio showmen are subscribing to the fevershew for swing, there are others who look down their artistic noses at swing, calling it a heinous band. So rapid has been the spread of swing that there already is organized opposition to it.

Public men for many of the swing orchestra leaders are stating the matter with the opinion of Swing of Arthur Cramer, president of the American League of Music Students, who says it is "deliberately and deliberately to create the lowest common denominator."

Swing got another kick in the pants this week from Walter Koons, music editor of NBC, who says it is "deliberately and deliberately to create the lowest common denominator."

However, swing addicts can recall with "Lionel King" that the defeatist croaking of the swing orchestra leaders is all well. A glance at the record shows swing was on four feet. From CBS comes the news that the No. 1 record band, Wayne King's, is being heard from the Sunday night network spot; that No. 1 swing band, Guy Lombardo's, is just being national networked; that Branyon Goodman and Fletcher Henderson are a solid sixty minutes beginning tomorrow p.m. on WGN and a trio of midwest stations, and that NBC's hit Parade this week lists only one swing

As a sportsman and world traveler, the former Prince of Wales often was pictured in informal snapshots. This picture was made on one of the occasions when he consented to pose for a formal portrait.

TAYLOR STATTON DYNAMIC FORCE IN BOYS' WORK

"Twenty-one years ago Taylor Statton was going up and down the country talking about the new Canada, changing thousands of men's minds, and getting into the Yukon and Trail Ranger way to prepare themselves for citizenship.

As a result of the boy movement launched by Statton and his colleagues, today there are in all parts of Canada 20,000 boys and leaders who are active in the movement.

From that movement came the Boy Scouts of Canada, and the National Boy Scouts of Canada, and the National Boy Scouts of Canada, and the National Boy Scouts of Canada.

Grey Wolf Attributes Ability as Naturalist To Fact He is Indian

Is Able To Speak English Because Of "White Blood"

HALIFAX, Feb. 22.—"My white blood only gave me the ability to speak English," said Neil, noted beaver conservationist, his name on the passenger list of a boat from England where he has been lecturing for five months.

Neil, as the friend of the beaver, Grey Wolf has written several books on the wild life of Canada. "It is because I am an Indian, not that I have a drop of Indian blood in me, but because of my study of nature," he volunteered before he returned to his home in England where he is in charge of the life of the beaver. Limerick Contest

Each week the Bulletin Limerick Contest is increasing steadily in popularity. Several young people have told the editor that it is one of the first things they look at on Saturday when they turn to the Young People's Page.

The Limerick this week is more difficult than previous ones have been, this did not dampen the enthusiasm of the contestants. Several of the answers were outstanding for their humor and ingenuity.

Kathleen Meredith, Edmonton, was selected as this week's prize-winner. Many of the answers received had the same idea as the winning answer printed below. Others had different ideas, but the winning answer was the word "Limerick," which is the one used by Kathleen. Her answer, mailed last Saturday, was the first one to be received by the editor.

If you want to win a dollar, all you have to do is send in the best line to complete the unfinished limerick. Someone has to win. It might as well be you as anybody else.

THE PRIZE-WINNING ONE
There was a young lad of Florence, A fly and a flea in a fur, Who for limerick contests great were impressed, so what abhorrence, Not when he'd been kissed, Said his fly, let us first: And found what she'd missed, She welcomed the kisses in terror.

Wives Shouldn't Shift Cooing Upon Children

"My dear," said a mother to her daughter on her wedding eve, "I know you are going into marriage just alighting over with intentions of being a good wife to Jim. That's fine and noble, but it won't get you anywhere if you are irritable and fretful and suspicious and nagging and gloomy."

Dorothy Dix

"The words are full of dreary women who were married wives and did their full duty by their husbands, but who are no disapproving their husbands' conduct at all. What a man wants is a pleasant wife, a wife who is easy to look at and pleasant to be with, and who has a laugh and a smile and who is easy to live with. You needn't believe about the major and minor domestic virtues. Your husband won't know when you've got 'em or not."

"Bear in mind, my child, that what a man really marries for is to get a clique. The reason he assumes some wife's food and lodging and shopping list for him is because he has made him believe that, alone in all the world, he can get him an arch and a spinster and see how wonderful and handsome he is. And all goes well as long as she gives him the glad hand."

"Never have I seen a wife forsaken by her husband who was an adept advice-giver. No woman who can mix a heady brew of home (fattery) need ever fear the Other Woman. So leave it to those who do not have to live with him to tell his husband of his faults, correct his grammar and pronunciation and yawn over his stories. You keep the income burned and great shall be your reward."

"Don't be a wet-blanket wife. Don't be one of those wives who can't stop out of an evening when husband feels like going places and doing things because she is too busy to leave the baby with a nurse, or because she has put the bread to rise, or because she is dressed, or because she can drop into bed and in your husband's arms and say 'go to sleep' and make just as much effort to be as if you were a date trifled with a wife. Don't spoil the fun of every party by counting up the cost and wondering if you can afford it. Save your husband's money for his bill and say nothing about it. If you want to make him love you, you have got to add to the hilarity of the occasion, not spoil it."

"Don't expect too much of your husband. He is human and he has his faults for which you must make allowance, as you must make allowance for his faults. Don't expect him to change his tastes and habits to coincide with yours. He won't do it, and it will make him hate you more and more. You interfere with your own person's ways at our peril. Don't expect him to be a combination money-making machine. He can't. He has to drive and second cook. Take his 'as is' and make the best of him. DOROTHY DIX

DEFICIT FOR A.G.T. TOTALS $1,617,856.13

Includes Deficit for Current Year Annual Report Reveals

The accumulated, corporate deficit, including the deficit for the current year, of the Alberta Government Telephone, now totals $1,617,856.13, according to the annual report of the Alberta Government Telephone for the year ended Mar. 31, 1935, tabled in the legislature by Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, railways and telephones. The deficit for the year in question was $383,700.72.

The report states that during the year under review, the book value of the operating physical plant was reduced by $2,345,682, due for the most part, in sales of rural telephone properties amounting to $2,949,140.

PHYSICAL INVENTORY
A physical inventory of exchange and plant, which has been reviewed by operating officials since 1927, was completed in the year, resulting in an adjustment downward of operating physical plant values amounting to $208,124.

Some replacement work was carried out on borrowed funds totalling $62,825. Various municipalities and the funded debt resulted in an increase in the capital deficit of $338,000.

REDUCED EXPENSES
Operating expenses show a fairly substantial reduction due to the further reduction in personnel. Reduction in operating and maintenance costs amounted to $45,113. Interest on the operating physical plant has been reduced by $28,627. Increase in an adjustment of $50,858 so that the net increase in interest burden is $1,000.

For comparison with the operating revenue of the previous year, it is shown that annual revenue changed from $1,230,100 to $1,230,000, a decrease of 0.8 per cent, and long distance revenue from $175,445 to $187,716, an increase of 6.9 per cent. The operating revenue for the year ended Mar. 31, 1935, was $1,230,000.

UPTURN IN GROWTH
Urban telephone stations show a net gain of 15,312, but a net loss of 291 for the last six months, shows a decrease in telephone growth.

The policy of disposing of the rural telephone plant to small rural communities continued during the year, when 20 companies were chartered. The plant transferred by bill of sale represented a book value of $50,940 and the sale price is $145,000, of which approximately $45,000

Council Tables Power Question

While the proposed Calgary Power agreement was an item on the agenda for consideration by city council at its special meeting Friday, this question was not discussed due to the absence of Commissioner David Mitchell, who is confined to his home with an illness.

It is expected the recommended agreement will be dealt with at a special meeting next week. It has been collected in cash. Collections on old rural telephone accounts still remain a most serious problem and there is very definite indication that similar difficulties must be faced in collecting for rural telephone plant sold on extended basis.

RECURRING HISTORY

Until such time as the "rural capitalization and accumulation" of the existing assets are removed from the accounts, the policy of the telephone department must continue to be the recurring history of losses more or less great.

Warm tribute is paid to J. D. Baker, deputy minister of telephones for the "patience and high regard for the public interest" under most discouraging conditions.

PEACE DRIVER WATER TESTS TO BE MADE

Government Promises Aid in Finding Potable Water in the North

After years of strenuous advocacy by the former government, turning a deaf ear to the proposal, L. A. Groulx, Liberal, showed that well satisfied in the legislature when, at its first session, through Hon. C. R. Ross, minister of lands and mines, promised to investigate the possibility of finding potable water for the Peace River area population.

"That's the best answer I have ever got," declared Mr. Groulx, when the Minister's reassuring statements were given.

The discussion arose when the Minister introduced a bill governing boring or digging for water.

DRILLING WORK NECESSARY
Water drilling, he said, had been found necessary in view of the fact that much valuable information was being lost to the province through records not being made available concerning borings or diggings. Some discussion took place regarding whether a "true" or an "exact" report on the borings should be filed.

A. L. Blue, S.C., Ribstone, protested the section that says that the director or other officials shall have free access to any property where there are boring operations.

Mr. Groulx stressed the value of test wells in districts where there was a lack of potable water.

He directed attention to one district where there were old pupils who had to drink water melted from ice gathered from along the winter before. Such a condition should not be allowed to exist.

He also drew attention to a report by Dr. R. L. Rutherford of the University of Alberta, who recommended drilling tests at several points to locate the structure.

Anything that prevents fumes of burned coal or gas being carried off freely may cause serious trouble in the home. If gas fumes are prevented from escaping into the open air they are apt to get out of the furnace or the pipe and affect the people in the house. Similarly, when a fire is banked up heavily for the night in cold weather, it is advisable to see that the chimney draft is pulling properly and that a little fresh air is left in the furnace.

When properly handled, both natural gas and coal are friends in winter, but negligence or carelessness may turn either into a menace. In testing winter fire, ordinary precautions are usually needed to avoid accidents, concludes the statement.

ROMANCE GOES WITH MILLION

Giving away a million to help humanity may be a laudable act, but the theory of which it's a part isn't practical in home life, asserts Mrs. Margaret J. Munce (above). So the former Wellesley student has filed suit in Tucson, Ariz., for divorce from A. E. O. Munce, who gave away his money in 1904, after their marriage, and went to live in a farmhouse.

CHIMNEY ICE FIRE HAZARD

With the unusual extreme cold, ice has formed on the tops of chimneys. This creates a hazard if the frost of ice is heavy enough to check free ventilation. Fumes of both coal and gas would do well to look at the chimneys on their horizons and make sure that there is no interference with the draft, warns the Northwestern Utilities.

Heat And Frost Meet

PRETORIA, South Africa, Feb. 22.—The winter of 1935-36, although the summer at 110 degrees was reported at Piquetburg, near here, there was a slight frost across the provincial border, in Natal.

When properly handled, both natural gas and coal are friends in winter, but negligence or carelessness may turn either into a menace. In testing winter fire, ordinary precautions are usually needed to avoid accidents, concludes the statement.

REVISION OF STATUTES IS NOW SOUGHT

Bill Introduced Into Legislature By Attorney-General

Hon. J. W. Huggill, K.C., attorney-general on Friday introduced into the legislature a bill to provide for the revision of the Alberta statutes, an action that has not been taken for many years.

The Statute Roll referred to in the bill contains the statutes comprised in the revised statutes and all statutes which have since been passed up to and including the year 1935.

REARRANGE STATUTES
The bill provides for the incorporation by the legislative council of any statute passed during the present session. The legislative council is authorized to rearrange and renumber the statutes and to make verbal alterations of a limited nature.

The legislative council may carry out his work under the direction of the attorney-general.

The government is empowered to print and publish the statute roll and to bring same into force as the revised statutes, 1906, by proclamation and as from a day to be named.

OPERATE AS CONSOLIDATION
The bill provides for the supercession of the statutes incorporated in the revision by the revision upon the same coming into force, but provides that the revision shall operate as a consolidation of the superceded statutes and not as new legislation.

There are also provisions directed to obviate inconveniences arising from the supercession of the statutes by the revision.

Illustrated Sunday School Lesson

By the Rev. A. E. Bell and Alfred J. Buschert

Jesus often warned against putting money first in life. Life consists not in the abundance of the things we possess, but in the love of God and the love of our neighbors. In the storm of life it is the presence of Christ with us that counts. He gives peace that money cannot buy.

$, %, AND THE CAUSE OF ARGUMENT

RENEWALS OF TRAM ACCORD GIVEN DEBATE

Estimates for Three Civic Utilities Discussed By Council Friday Night

Item of $70,000 for renewal in total estimated expenditure of $100,000 for the street railway department this year was the cause of considerable argument when city council met Friday night to discuss the 1936 budget.

Explaining the $70,000 expense, Thomas Ferrier, head of the street railway service, stated it was placed in the budget to provide for renewal of worn-out equipment.

TOO HIGH
In view of the fact that only $35,000 had been required for renewals last year, he thought the 1936 figure was too high, declared Ald. Margaret Crang.

Ald. Jas. East maintained that the city could not afford to do more efficient operation and service could be maintained only if necessary replacements were made.

ELECTRIC LIGHT
While he had originally estimated a total of $24,743 for the department this year, he had now raised the estimate to $27,000, following the conference with powers.

STREET RAILWAY
Mr. Ferrier, head of the Street Railway Department, reported that estimated expenditure for 1936 included items of $10,000 for a new car and $20,000 for the purchase of the bus, if purchased, would be the only item of expenditure.

NEED RENEWALS
Ald. Jas. East asserted that if revenue was to be maintained service would have to be of a high standard, and this could only be obtained by necessary renewals.

MORE PASSENGERS
Council was informed that passenger traffic for 1935 had increased by 48,441 passengers over the corresponding period last year.

Military Orders
By kind invitation of the management, the personnel of the Edmonton Cavalry Band will perform at the city hall on Saturday night.

"Dad's Girl"
A charge of carnal knowledge of a girl between 14 and 16 years of age was laid against Robert Mieske, who returned his plea and received an adjournment to Thursday.

Prills, thrills and spills... and cold feet... were again in the carte last night, as the Federation of Community Leagues Carnival wound up its two-day performance at the arena.

With a strong contingent of supporters from their locality cheering them on, Westmount skaters wrested the Gordon Winkler Shield, emblematic of supremacy in community ice sports, from the Rosedale Community competitors, who had captured it in competitions last year.

The night's entertainment was again started off with a grand costume parade, featuring 20 nations and their national garb, which was headed by the three carnival queens, the queen of the present festival, Betty Carville, that of 1934, May Keys and the queen-to-be in 1936, Phyllis Dean.

BETTY CARVILLE CROWNED 23 QUEEN

After a slow march around the rink, the parade proceeded to the snow-mountained throne in mid-ice where Betty Carville, queen of the Phyllis Dean, next year's queen.

John Johnson and his ever enjoyable fancy skating performance again provided an interesting intermission. Other specialties which proved highly popular in the increased crowd out at the arena last night, were the barrel jumping acts of Archie Watt and Russell "Husky" Gillett, Chas. Fraser, the two-year old skating wonder, was again enthusiastically applauded. "Red" Briggs, "the best clown in the rink," provided renewed laughter throughout.

WATT OUTSTANDING

Without a sound the most spectacular speed skating exhibition was the one given by Archie Watt in the one mile race for boys over 18. From the start Watt took the lead and was never threatened thereafter and before the race was over he had caught up with the rest of the pack to finish one lap ahead of all others.

Westmount had a winner in every race, except in the one for boys 12 and under, that of the girls under 18, and that for girls over 18. The West End team figured prominently in the relay races, where they piled up many points, taking first place in every one of them, but the married women's relay, there being only a Rosedale entry in this class.

WAGE CLOSE RACE

The trophy winners were given a close race by Rosedale and their margin of 14 points was very small, considering that for each first place winner ten points were allotted to the team. A little more over the top and the other might have been sufficient to change the scores enough to lose or win the shield for one or the other team. For instance, in the no-age-limit relay race for girls, Nellie Gordin, one of the fastest female skaters on the ice, had the misfortune to fall at a turn when she was well ahead of the others, ruining her chances of coming in first and giving her partners a good lead.

Calder also gave serious threat for honors and had many good performers on their skating contingent. Full results of yesterday's competition follow.

Over Portland Six In Bitter Contest

Calgarians Score As Many Goals On Andy Aitkenhead As Any Team In League During Present Season

CALGARY, Feb. 22.—Calgary Tigers last night scored a 4-2 victory over Portland Buckaroos in a Northwestern Hockey League game. In retaining their first playoff chance by the victory Tigers beat Andy Aitkenhead, Buck's captain, as often as any team in the circuit has this year.

Fighting to hold their slim chance for a playoff berth, the last place Tigers went ahead when Happy Thompson scored on a pass from Tony Savage in the last minute of the first period. The rest of the scoring was packed into the second session with Buckaroos tying the count twice before the league was completed.

Portland, a 2-1 victory over the Calgary net, two minutes later Savage sent Tigers into the lead again on a backhand shot. Jimmy Jampan put Buckaroos on even terms again on a tally that nobody but the goal judge saw.

ESKS MEET BUCS HERE TONIGHT

Edmonton Eskimos, in their second last home game, meet Portland Buckaroos at the Arena tonight.

The Eks will be battling hard to keep in the playoffs as they will have Saturday night's game against the Bucs and next week's game against the Eskis on home ice.

It is with a weakened team that Eks will play on Saturday night. Portland's first game has been postponed and it is not known whether they will be in the lineup, following last night's game.

However, the Eks will be well prepared. They have signed a new forward, Tony Savage, and the local hockey agent, Clarence Campbell, will referee the game and it will start out at 8:00 o'clock.

VIENNA, Feb. 22.—Canada's Olympic hockey team came from behind to defeat a representative Austrian team 2-1 in a strenuous match last night.

The Austrians held the upper hand during the first two periods, showing clever combination. Dummer, tallied their lone goal in the second period.

The Canadians, supplied most of the action in the first half, scored the tying goal in the second period.

The next night the Canadians played in a similar manner, defeating a Russian side for an 8-2 triumph, also at Munich.

SONJA HENIE WINS Skating Laurels

PARIS, Feb. 22.—Sonja Henie, world's premier woman figure skater, appeared well on her way to her 10th successive world championship when she led 16 rivals from nine nations through the compulsory figures. The competition will be concluded today with the fancy skating.

The Norwegian girl's task was made much easier by the withdrawal of Cecilia Page, English, and runner-up to Miss Henie in the compulsory figures, who was injured by a fall.

Samuels of Canada, Marcelle Van der Meer of Holland, and Linette Landbeck of Belgium, and Maxine Herber, German champion, were also in the field.

Hamilton Thistle Rink Defeated

TORONTO, Feb. 22.—Gordon Campbell's Hamilton Thistle Rink, winner last year of the Macdonald's trophy and the Ontario Tankard, was defeated 10-9 in Tankard round earlier defeated O. Patterson's Port McNeill rink 2-3.

Garneau's bouncing basketballers went down to defeat in the first inter-school game of the season, when they tangled with Sons on Thursday afternoon. Lack of substitutes seemed to be one cause in the Garneau defeat. They held a six point lead at one time, but their next set in fact was this lead and Sons was ahead with a comfortable 21-18 lead when the final bell went.

These two teams clash again next Wednesday and perhaps you will find a reversal of form—at least in the case of Garneau can get much worse.

In the junior struggle between McDougall Commercial and Garneau, the young stars are struck and chalked up a 6-3 victory. They had absolutely no regard for Garneau's reputation and used that team merely as some-

South Side Plays Canuck Outfit on Sunday For Possibly Last Game—A's Must Triumph

The Junior League's better hockey, Canada and South Side will resume their play-off battles for the city championship at the arena Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

In this year of play-off bouts a victory for the Canucks would mean the end of the Junior League and in the first game Canadians went out and took the measure of the favored South Siders by a 2-1 score. This was somewhat of an upset in sports circles as South Side had gone through their regular schedule this year with only one defeat.

Canadians have a sturdy squad with one game margin in the series. South Side will really have to go down to business Sunday if they still expect to claim a championship title.

These two teams are the same ones which fought a six game duel last year for city honors and it will be no surprise if this year's series went more than the regulation three games. Canucks are the present holders of the city championship and are also last year's provincial champs and they are determined to make a good showing to keep both crowns. South Side on the other hand figure it their chance to make a good showing in win. It'll be a mighty scrap between the two teams.

Clarence Campbell will handle Sunday's game.

CRICKET NOTICE

A business meeting of the Junior League will be held at the Memorial Hall, Tuesday, February 23 at 8 p.m. All members or boys wishing to be members are cordially invited, as arrangements for the forthcoming season will be discussed.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

ECLIPSES

NO TWO TOTAL SOLAR ECLIPSES CAN HAPPEN NEARER TOGETHER THAN 177 DAYS, AND THE LENGTH OF TOTALITY LASTS BUT A FEW MINUTES. FOR THIS REASON, ASTRONOMERS AND SCIENTISTS TRAVEL THOUSANDS OF MILES TO WITNESS THESE SHOWS. INTRICATE EQUIPMENT IS SET UP, WITH WHICH TO STUDY THE BRIEF SPECTACLE.

ECLIPSES OCCUR ONLY WHEN THE EARTH, THE SUN, AND THE MOON ARE IN LINE. AN ECLIPSE OF THE SUN IS CAUSED BY THE MOON COMING BETWEEN THE SUN AND THE EARTH. ECLIPSES OF THE MOON RESULT WHEN THE EARTH COMES BETWEEN THE SUN AND THE MOON.

ON THE MOON ARE MOUNTAIN PEAKS, SIMILAR TO THOSE ON EARTH, AND JUST BEFORE THE POINT OF TOTALITY OF A SOLAR ECLIPSE, THE OUTLINES OF THESE MOUNTAINS ARE SEEN AGAINST THE SUN, CAUSING THE PHENOMENON KNOWN AS "BAILY'S BEADS."

AN ECLIPSE OF THE SUN (ABOVE) BEGINS ON THE WEST SIDE OF THE SUN. AN ECLIPSE OF THE MOON (BELOW) BEGINS ON THE EAST SIDE OF THE MOON.

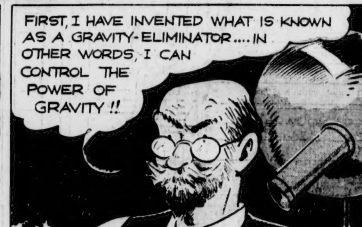

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By Blosser

BUT HOW COULD YOU GENERATE ENOUGH POWER IN A ROCKET SHIP TO GET TO THE MOON?

QUITE SIMPLE, MY BOY!

FIRST, I HAVE INVENTED WHAT IS KNOWN AS A GRAVITY-ELIMINATOR.... IN OTHER WORDS, I CAN CONTROL THE POWER OF GRAVITY!!

BUT HOW CAN YOU GET AWAY FROM THE EARTH?

I USE THE GRAVITY-ELIMINATOR AND THE ROCKETS.... I PLAN TO USE A DOZEN ROCKETS FOR THE TRIP TO THE MOON!

ONLY A DOZEN?

YES- YOU SEE, IN THE ROCKET SHIP I HAVE DESIGNED A COMPARTMENT TO HARNESS ALL WASTED POWER!

USING THE PRINCIPALS OF AN AUTOMATIC RIFLE, I ACCOMPLISH MY PURPOSE! YOU SEE, THE RECOIL OF A RIFLE RELOADS THE NEXT CARTRIDGE INTO THE BARREL!

THUS, I CONTROL THE RECOIL OF MY ROCKETS! WHEN A ROCKET IS FIRED IT RECOILS.... I HARNESS THAT RECOIL TO PROPEL THE SHIP FORWARD!!

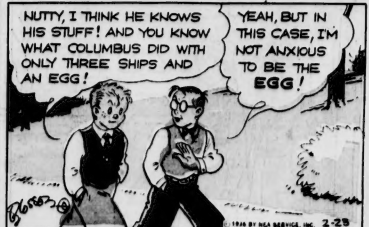

YOU MEAN YOU USE THE RECOILS OVER AND OVER AGAIN UNTIL THEY LOSE ALL THEIR POWER?

RIGHT... THEN I FIRE ANOTHER ROCKET!

BUT HOW DO YOU EXPECT TO FIND THE MOON?

SIMPLE ENOUGH! I SET MY MAGNETIC COILS TO REACT ONLY TO METALS FOUND ON THE MOON... IN THE UPPER STRATA, THE COILS AUTOMATICALLY PULL US TO OUR TARGET!

NUTTY, I THINK HE KNOWS HIS STUFF! AND YOU KNOW WHAT COLUMBUS DID WITH ONLY THREE SHIPS AND AN EGG!

YEAH, BUT IN THIS CASE, I'M NOT ANXIOUS TO BE THE EGG!
